DEAR MUSIC LOVERS, FRIENDS AND PARTNERS,

ARTHAUS MUSIK – SIMPLY UNIQUE. Experience the great variety of music and art. Exciting and extravagant themes from the last two years are waiting for you as well as a selection of our bestsellers and a preview, what we have in mind for the future.

18 YEARS OLD, INTERNATIONAL, SUCCESSFUL. When in March 2000 Arthaus Musik has released its first ten products, nobody could guess what international success the label would once achieve. Today, 18 years later, we can look back on around 1.650 releases, among them some innovative milestones thanks to the state-of-the-art technology like the first 4k-UHD-release, a concert production by using the new surround sound technology Dolby Atmos and the first 360° opera shot. Our entire catalogue includes many awarded and top-class opera, concert and ballet performances featuring outstanding soloists, renowned conductors and orchestras as well as documentaries of historical value about famous artists and musicians.

WITH YOU AS OUR PARTNER STRENGTHENED INTO THE FUTURE. After 18 years history of Arthaus Musik we are going new paths in distribution. At midyear we took our distribution in Germany in our own hands and entered into new international partnerships. The direct contact with you, our distributors and business partners is our main aim, to market our products in a targeted manner and to satisfy your needs individually.

FROM CENTRAL GERMANY TO THE REST OF THE WORLD. VDS Versand- und DatenService is our new excellent logistic partner, which guarantees an optimized supply of our products worldwide.

We are looking forward to continuing our collaboration and welcome our new partners.

MARISS JANSONS – BEETHOVEN SYMPHONIES

"Mariss Jansons and the Bavarian Radio Symphony Orchestra give musical articulation to the most deep-rooted turmoil of the human soul." Yomiuri Newspaper

"A fascinating rehearsal sequence on the Eroica reveals Mariss Jansons to be meticulously inside every aspect of the scores, knowing exactly the sound he is seeking." International Record Review

"Jansons and his band have something valid and fresh to say in every single symphony" Gramophone

"Mariss Jansons avoids all superficial effects. Displaying a courage that is rare nowadays, he manages to strike a found and sincere tone in the Fifth Symphony that justifies the fervent applause of audience and orchestra alike." Mainichi Newspaper

"This must be one of the year's best performances of the Ninth Symphony. Not a trace of lofty heroism here ..." Mostly Classic

"No doubt, Janson's Beethoven Symphonies are technically performed on a very high level. Once more the Bavarian Orchestra musicians prove their outstanding competence." pizzicato.lu

The first complete Beethoven cycle from Mariss Jansons in top quality

Beethoven's first three symphonies can be seen as experiments in the heroic style. What is intimated in the First Symphony in a new firmness of musical tone and the replacement of dance-like, takes on more concrete form in the Second Symphony. This is a monumental symphony. The Third Symphony, called "Eroica", is one of the most popular orchestral works by Beethoven.

His Fourth Symphony represents a return to the more modest dimensions of traditional symphonies. The Fifth Symphony is a masterpiece not just of motivic construction and narrative psychology but also in terms of instrumentation. With his 6th Symphony, the Pastoral Symphony, Beethoven fully exploited the possibilities of musical narrative using sounds alone.

Ludwig van Beethoven created works whose impact on the development of several genres in terms of formal structures can hardly be matched in music history. In his Seventh (1812) and Eighth (1813) Symphonies, Beethoven does come close to such "absolute" music. And the Ninth (1824) – it will always stand for itself.

Gerd Albrecht conducts and explores
New Music

Based on Albrechts' conviction that people should understand the music and comprehend the composers' ideas, he developed his analytical educational concerts. In cooperation with the Sender Freies Berlin (SFB) and the Deutsches Symphonie-Orchester Berlin the TV series "Wege zur Neuen Musik" (Paths to New Music) was established, which has been relaunched in the years 2010–2012 in cooperation with the Radio Symphony Orchestra Berlin. Contemporary composers would get a chance to speak, talk about their creations, the way they work and their musical concerns. This edition combines six conversation concerts conducted by Gerd Albrecht.

- including an extensive 200-page book with further information about the composers and works

LUTHER – AN ORATORIO

A masterpiece dedicated to Martin Luther that covers the time from 1517 to 1529

KUNSTSTIFTUNG
SACHSEN-ANHALT

new work by
Oscar Strasnoy &
Christoph Hein

On the occasion of the 500th anniversary of the Reformation in 2017 the internationally acclaimed composer of contemporary music Oscar Strasnoy and Christoph Hein, one of the most important German authors, have been commissioned to create an oratorio dedicated to the life and work of Martin Luther. For the first time the focus lies on Luther in such a large-scale work for orchestra, choir and soloists. It's a critical view of the person Luther, in which each role of the soloists is caricatured by the pitch of the voice.

SILLY – WUTFÄNGER

The full live concert from Berlin

They are distinctive, headstrong, inventive, and above all, authentic. The Berlin east-rock band Silly with frontwoman Anna Loos thrilled an audience of millions during their "Wutfänger" tour through Germany.

"In that moment when we go on stage, the band merges into one person" (Silly). And this is exactly what you feel when you see the band live. Electrified by the sound and the stage and light performance, the fans cheered the popular band who performed their new songs as well as the old classics.

The grand finale was undoubtedly the concert at the Columbiahalle in Berlin which was recorded in 4k. This ensures a picture with highest quality and a really exciting listening experience.

"Grinda's production provided attractive stage pictures and excellent cast" Operanews

Giuseppe Verdi's Ernani is a vibrant adaptation for the lyric stage of one of the most flamboyant dramas by the French poet. Both the composer and his librettist have combined Hugo's verbal eloquence with the right musical temperament. Perfect example of Grand opera with chorus, the magnificent Act III is above all the first time Verdi draws the very precise contours of what is about to become a type of voice in itself: the Verdi-baritone. In Ernani he starts to focus as never before on the psychological side of his characters. All his operas after Ernani will follow the same path in his perpetual quest of the truth.

Legendary Performances

impressively demonstrates how diverse, imposing and especially how alluring and delightful the world of opera is.

High Resolution Audio

To finally hear great masterpieces without frequency loss or compression of the audio data, in a form that faithfully reproduces every nuance of the original recording, is a dream come true for every music lover. The releases presented here have been produced from first-class master tapes, musical gems that have waited far too long to find their way into our high-tech modern world. It was only with the introduction of Blu-ray, with its vast storage capacity, that the foundations were laid to release not only HD video, but also high resolution audio – bringing classic analogue music recordings into our homes in all their original glory. Whereas a CD has a maximum resolution of 16 bits, Hi Res provides full 24-bit sound. The sampling rate of Hi Res audio is 192 kHz, whereas a CD can only boast a quarter of this (44.1 kHz). The improved resolution and higher sampling rate of Hi Res makes it possible to create an exact reproduction of an analogue recording. The result: A sound that perfectly simulates the spirit and vibrancy of a live performance.

IL TROVATORE

This legendary performance is a rarity for all Karajan fans

Il Trovatore was always one of Herbert von Karajan's favourite operas. This 1978 performance is steeped in scandal. Franco Bonisoli was originally cast in the lead role but abandoned the cast during a rehearsal where the public had been admitted entry, and, after throwing his sword at the conductor, left the stage in fury, to be later replaced by Plácido Domingo.

- Herbert von Karajan's third and last confrontation with "Il Trovatore" (after 1956 and 1962)
- Plácido Domingo filled in quickly for the indisposed Franco Bonisoli
- starring high-caliber singers like Piero Cappuccilli, Raina Kabaivanska, Fiorenza Cossotto, José van Dam and Plácido Domingo

EDVARD GRIEG – WHAT PRICE IMMORTALITY?

A fascinating and thrilling biopic about Edvard Grieg

New digitally
version

The international acclaimed film "What Price Immortality?" directed by Thomas Olofsson and Ture Rangström gives an authentic picture of a man and composer who still receives less attention outside Scandinavia than he deserves, even more than 100 years after his death. This music film throws some light on the restless life and complex character by means of a series of flash-backs in which the elderly Grieg tries to find out the truth about his life and remembers at times of happiness and extremity. A wide range of excerpts from his music provide fitting illustrations of the various episodes in his career.

- for the 175th birthday of the composer Edvard Grieg the new version is digitally remastered

MONDSCHONSONATE – DIE VOLKSPIANISTIN ELLY NEY

An exciting search for traces about one of the most considered pianists of the 20th century

Elly Ney is a myth, a legend. Some worshipped her as the high priestess of Beethoven, for others she was Hitler's pianist. With the help of contemporary witnesses, experts and music researchers this film explores the real causes for Elly Ney's rapid career as a pianist, her great successes in America and her cultural-political entanglements in the Third Reich.

• after 50 years of Elly Ney's death Frithjof von Bodungen opened his private archive to make rarely photographs, audio footage and personal letters accessible

• this edition contains an audiovisual production of Ludwig van Beethoven's Sonata No. 12 in A flat major – historical archive footage available for the first time on DVD

• original and never before on CD released recordings of Mozarts Chamber Music performed by Elly Ney featuring friends as complement

PIERRE BOULEZ – A LIFE FOR MUSIC

A very personal portrait about one of the most radical composers of our time including Boulez's definitive reading of Stravinsky's masterwork

Filmmaker Reiner Moritz has been working with Pierre Boulez since 1973. When the composer, conductor and essayist passed away in 2016 Moritz decided to call on his friends and colleagues to make available archive footage. He was much helped by Boulez's younger brother, Roger, who provided photographs from the Boulez-Chevalier archives. Daniel Barenboim, a life-long friend, underlines his importance for the musical life of our time and shares wonderful anecdotes with us. Boulez, the conductor, is featured with key works of his vast repertoire including Berg, Bruckner, Mahler, Mozart and Stravinsky.

• famous colleagues like Daniel Barenboim or Peter Eötvös talk about his outstanding work as avant-gardist-composer

Sound Tracker

A MUSICAL TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

"I'm Sami Yaffa and I am a rock'n'rollin' Globetrotter with an endless curiosity about all things musical. This is my exploration into why music is so important to us all. This is Sound Tracker." These are the first words of the successful Finnish TV Series Sound Tracker.

Sami Yaffa is an accomplished musician who has seen all facets of life as a performing artist – he has toured the world in successful rock bands and earned a living as a street busker. Sound Tracker is his expedition to the world of music. Starting in the USA, heading towards Argentina, Turkey, Serbia, India, Indonesia, and many more, Sami gets to know the traditional music by playing with the people around and getting involved in their cultures. The variety of music is endlessly, it's everywhere and it bounds us together as a basic part of our everyday life.

FROM MUROMACHI TO NIHONGA – JAPANESE ART FROM 15TH TO 20TH CENTURY

A journey through the time of Japanese art from 15th to 19th century

Japanese art offers a wide range of different styles and expressions, which changed constantly during the last thousands of years. Despite of many influences and developments the aesthetic principles remained unaffected. From the ink painting of Sesshū, magnificent paintings on folding screens of Tōhaku, Sōtatsu and Kōrin to the silk painting of Higashiyama – this DVD combines five masterworks of the respective representatives of their particular epoch – from Muromachi to Nihonga.

- previously unreleased documentaries about famous Japanese artworks
- the series explores the artworks from the masters of Japanese painting

ARTISTS:
Sesshū Tōyō, Tōhaku Hasegawa, Tawaraya Sōtatsu, Ogata Kōrin, Higashiyama Kaii

HUNGARIAN IMPRESSIONISTS AND NATURALISTS

A beautiful insight in the Hungarian art scene

The foundation of the first art academy in Budapest 1871 was the driving force of the development in Hungary's art. Although many Hungarian artists studied in Munich, Vienna or Paris, they returned to their homeland to put forth remarkable paintings which have assumed increasing importance over the years. Five paintings, which mainly housed in the Hungarian National Gallery, are the focus of an expedition through the multifaceted Hungarian art.

- the series explores the artworks from the masters of Hungarian painting: József Rippl-Rónai, Margit Anna, Károly Ferenczy, Pál Szinyei Merse and Tivadar Kosztka Csontváry
